

I am really impressed with the History work because I can see how much my son has learnt about The Great Fire of London.

I liked the RE as he wrote about home and his family.

Her John Ray Times piece of writing. She did brilliant illustrations and her handwriting is excellent.

The John Constable inspired paintings – such good details and painting.

I loved seeing the Samuel Pepys diary. He was so proud to show me his neat handwriting.

What piece of work impressed you the most?

Parent comments from our May book look.

The science work. He knows new things and has been keen to learn with pictures and artefacts.

The way she has improved in Maths, especially the way she has learnt her times tables. presented.

Mathematics because she seems to have enjoyed it.

His handwriting has improved lots. I can see how hard he has been working.

I loved the artwork, geography, History and English too. Lovely handwriting too.
